START SMART

Sports Development Program

This program, created by the National Alliance for Youth Sports, helps kids get ready to succeed not only in sports programs, but also in any of life's competitive tasks. Learning step-by-step methods to sport-oriented skills, children gain confidence and self-esteem in a positive environment. The weekly sessions also help parents learn how to support their child as they learn new activities, and set aside a bit of quality time to be spent having fun. A great start for both children and parents!
